International Pentecostal Holiness Church Cornerstone Conference

Requirements For Receiving The Minister of Music License (MML)

The International Pentecostal Holiness Church (IPHC) Manual directs each Conference to establish a prescribed course of study, approved by the Council of Bishops for individuals who have a definite call of God on their life to enter into formal ministry. The Cornerstone Conference Executive Council has directed the Cornerstone Conference Credentialing Committee to have oversight in fulfilling this mandate. The primary ministry arm for providing foundational training for potential ministers is the Biblical Ministries Institute (BMI).

This document provides basic information pertaining to the Local Church Minister's License, the Minister's License, and Ordination with a concentration in the Ministry of Music. Ordination is the highest level of ministerial credential conferred upon an individual by the IPHC. The prescribed time to receive Ordination in the IPHC is three-years. Prior to Ordination an individual must hold Minister's License. In an effort to assist in determining God's call on their lives, some have opted for the Local Church Minister's License.

“WHAT’S THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE LOCAL CHURCH MINISTER’S LICENSE AND MINISTER’S LICENSE, AND WHAT ARE THE STEPS IN RECEIVING ONE OF THESE MINISTRY CREDENTIALS?”

The Holy Spirit gives every believer a particular ministry gift or gifts at the moment of his or her conversion (see 1 Peter 4:10; Ephesians 4:7; 1 Corinthians 12:7). The Bible does not mandate believers hold a ministerial credential in order to function within those ministry giftings. We are expected to invest those giftings in the local church in order to assist the church in growing (Matthew 25:14-30).

The Ministerial Credentialing Committee representatives will serve to give clarity regarding a definite call into ministry during the Initial Interview appointment. That is the first step in the process of determining which, if any credential is necessary.

Typically, the call of God into a specific area of ministry is direct and definite. Upon accepting the call into ministry, the person is mindful of God's specific purpose, and the arena of ministry upon which they should focus. As an act of obedience to God, people in this category have made a personal surrender to God's will, and they pursue the Minister's License. However, there are times when an individual may sense a call on their lives, yet are uncertain if God is calling them to full-time ministry in a particular area of ministry. The individual has a desire to assist the pastor in the local church and represent the local church in the community. In some instances a formal credential may be necessary to enable them to fulfill that call upon their lives. Generally, the senior pastor in the local church can provide meaningful direction when asked for his/her counsel. Holding the Local Church Minister's License demands higher levels of exposure to ministry, coupled with a greater degree of responsibility and accountability for ministry in the local church. Possessing the Local Church Minister's License can sometimes bring clarity in a believer's life regarding the need to pursue the Minister's License.

Receiving and answering a definite call to ministry brings with it significant changes in a person's life. Expectations are higher, and a commitment to fulfilling the call results in new demands of the individual, as well as to their family. A sacred call into ministry is no mere career choice.

Listed below are the basic differences and steps between the MML and the MMLCL are summarized below:

GUIDELINES FOR WRITING A CRITIQUE

Study guides are not provided for textbooks candidates are assigned to read. No test is administered on the reading assignments; however, the candidate is to write and submit a critique on the books that are read.

A critique is a summarized evaluation of the textbook. It is not a book review, in which the candidate summarizes the contents of the text. The critique should be an evaluation and analysis of the textbook. The members of the MCC will be familiar with the textbook; therefore, it will be redundant to inform the assigned member of the MCC of what the book is about. The critique should interact with the author of the text. The student should note certain points of special interest, as well as areas where the student might disagree. The critique should analyze how the material learned from the reading assignment may be applied to the immediate context of ministry in the area of Music Ministries.

Format for writing the Critique

1. The critique should be no shorter than three (3) pages, and no longer than seven (7) pages in length.
2. The paper should be written with one (1) inch margins and should have a header with four (4) lines containing:
  - a. Your name
  - b. Name of the text and author
  - c. Date when the critique is written
  - d. Page number
3. The paper should be written in Microsoft Office Word.
4. The paper, if presented digitally, should be in PDF format.

5. The body of the paper should be in Arial Font, twelve (12) point, and the header should be Arial Font, ten (10) point.
6. The spacing for the lines of the body of the paper should be 1.5.
7. The title of the paper should be centered on the first page, skipping two lines from the header. It should be centered, typed in bold print, and contain the following:

Cornerstone Conference Biblical Ministries Institute
A Critique Of Book Title

8. An example of a book critique appears on the Conference website, cornerstonecmc.org. Click on the example book critique link under the Biblical Ministries Institute button under "Our Ministries."
